

Parents' Guide to Spiritual Growth

— Partnering With Us in Your Child's Walk With Christ

Your child's academic growth matters deeply to us. Their spiritual growth matters more. This guide exists to help you partner with LTBL at home, not replace what you're already doing, but walk alongside it.

1 THE FRUIT OF THE SPIRIT AT HOME

Our character formation is built on Galatians 5:22-23: love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance. Each month, your child's classroom anchors on one of these. Ask them what they're learning about it. A simple question at dinner, what does patience look like this week, does more than you'd expect.

2 TALKING TO YOUR CHILD ABOUT IDENTITY

The single most important thing we hope your child carries out of LTBL is this: their worth was never tied to a grade, a circumstance, or what someone else said about them. It's found in Christ. You can reinforce this simply, by noticing character before achievement. I saw you show real kindness today lands deeper than good job ever will.

3 A SIMPLE FAMILY RHYTHM

- A short prayer together, morning or evening, doesn't need to be long to be real
- One meal a week with no distractions, just conversation
- Celebrate character growth out loud, the same way you'd celebrate a good grade

4 WHEN YOUR CHILD IS STRUGGLING

Come to us. Whatever your child is carrying, academic pressure, grief, disruption from Hurricane Melissa, we would rather know early than find out late. You are never a bother for reaching out.
